The children may obtain their watches tomorrow at noon by calling on Miss Adine Morton, 612 Broadway. The committee consisting of Miss Adine Morton, Mrs. Charles Kiger and Miss Elizabeth Sinnott and City Auditor Kirkland, decided to extend the time limit if the flag contest between the schools and improve ment of premises until May 15, although the result will not be known until May 17.

All entries into the contests will be required to register at once, so that the premises may be inspected before the improvements are made.

Davis, the exalted ruler, will announce the program in a few weeks. He is busy arranging for the speakers and will secure the best talent in the city. The lodge will hold the celebration at the home on North Fifth street, and the public will be invited to attend. One important event on the program will be a complete history of the American flag.

False Pretense and Forgery Are Charged Against Former County Clerk Smedley in 20 Indictments

Grand Jury Takes No Action
on Smedley's Statement—Find Jail in Excellent Condition—Complimented.

Further probing into the alleged discrepancies in county offices was postponed this morning by the grand jury, when it was adjourned finally by Judge Reed. The minutes on the grand jury concerning the misappropriation of funds was referred to the next grand jury, which will be convened in September.

Obtaining money by false pretenses, uttering and publishing forged instruments as true, and forgery were the charges on which 20 indictments were returned against Hiram Smedley, former county clerk. Three indictments charge him with obtaining money by false pretenses, nine with forgery and eight with uttering and publishing forged instruments as true. The lowest bond, $250 on each indictment, was fixed. The total bond of Smedley is fixed at $5,750 as the bond on the indictment for which he is under arrest is $750. He has not been able to make bond and is out today under the guard of Detective T. J. Moore.

It is stated that charges of irregularities were before the grand jury regarding some of the county offices, and some of the members of the grand jury wanted to go to the bottom of the alleged discrepancies, but the term was not extended. Mr. Smedley was before the grand jury yesterday afternoon and offered evidence, that did not shield himself. It is said that he testified that others' irregularities had been going on two years. Only two witnesses were examined, and as three are necessary, no other indictments were considered.

One county official, it is said, testified before the grand jury against Smedley, and in substance it is stated that he acknowledged he knew that Smedley had obtained money falsely for a number of years, but he did not expose him until he feared Smedley would take the entire court house.

He said he had given Smedley every opportunity to make bond, but that he had failed to make a bond of $750, and he felt sure that it would be more difficult for Smedley to make a bond of $5,750. Mr. Ogilvie stated that the rush of work required in preparation for collecting taxes required the services of his deputies, and he could not spare one as a guard.

Faithful Wife Follows Husband to This City

Driving one small mule to a wagon, heavily laden with plunder, Mrs. George Wright and her two-year-old daughter arrived this morning from Calloway county, and they visited the county jail, where Wright is under arrest for horse stealing. It was a pitiful sight as the woman was without funds with the exception of the household property. She made the trip overland from the edge of Calloway county, where Wright was arrested by Sheriff Eley.

The woman had the wagon loaded heavily with the household goods and made the trip with a horse and mule.

SHOPPING TRAIN, CENTRAL CITY TO PADUCAH, GRANTED

Out-of-Town Buyers Can Now Spend the Day in This City

And Return to Their Homes
in Evening.

DRUMMERS GET THEIR TRAIN.

Beginning next Sunday, the early morning shopping train, which merchants have been after for a long time, will be put on the Illinois Central from Central City. It will return at 3:40 in the afternoon, thus allowing out-of-town shoppers ample time to make their purchases and get home the same day.

The Central City accommodation train, which now runs to Hopkinsville, will leave Central City every morning at 5 o'clock and will arrive in Paducah at 9 o'clock. After a ten minute wait the train will leave for Cairo. On the return the train will leave Paducah at 3:40 o'clock in the afternoon and will reach Central City at 7:30 o'clock. Direct connection with the Hopkinsville trains that leave Paducah at 7:50 o'clock in the morning, 11:25 o'clock in the morning and 3:40 o'clock in the afternoon. The change in schedule will be effective next Sunday. The business men of the city have tried to secure the change in schedule for several years.

This is one of the fruits of the hospitality extended the Illinois Central officials by Paducah business men recently.

Drummers' Train.

Paducah wholesale houses after years of waiting have secured accommodations from the Illinois Central, which will greatly facilitate the work of their traveling salesmen in the Paducah territory. The morning train, now starting from Fulton, will start from Paducah at 7 o'clock running through to Cairo. This will enable traveling salesmen to go into that territory without getting up at 3 o'clock, and gives them two trains a day each way, so they can make three or four towns a day between Paducah and Fulton. Main line folks can come to Paducah at night and get away, either early in the morning or in the evening. It is believed this will eventually help the retail trade, though the immediate benefit is to the wholesale houses. None of the Kentucky trade goes to Cairo, and there is no fear of the train drawing trade from Paducah's territory. Ben Weille, railroad chairman of the Commercial club, has received word that the concessions was granted. The T. P. A. has been active for the train.

The train returning will reach Paducah at 7:40 p. m.

Jack Berry's Body Found

The body of "Jack" Barry, of Metropolis, who was drowned from the Cowling the night of April 26, was picked up by the Cowling off Port Mastic last evening on the return trip to Metropolis. Barry was 25 years old. He was seen on the boat that night after it left Paducah, but did not get off. His death was wholly accidental. The body was seen floating on the surface yesterday by a woman passenger. The boat was stopped and a skiff sent out after it. The body was buried this afternoon at 2:30 at Metropolis.

Jack Berry's Body Found

This morning, when the outskirts of Paducah were reached, the horse fell by the roadside from exhaustion, Mrs. Wright unhitched the horse and left it in the road, while they continued the trip with the mule hitched to the wagon. It was a pitiful sight to see the woman driving down the street with the one mule, holding her child in her arms.

After the visit to her husband she went to a wagon yard and sold her outfit, and will use the money for transportation to her home near Nashville. Wright was indicted by the grand jury this morning.

The woman received the sympathy of the county officials. The woman started back to Paducah when Wright was arrested last Saturday, but owing to the bad condition of her team, she did not reach Paducah until nearly noon.

Little Cypress, Ky., May 5. (Special.)—Suffering with concussion of the brain the condition of Clifford McMatt, 12 years old, is considered serious. TROUBLE IN ASIA MINOR THREATENS TO BECOME WORSE

Washington, May 5.—Orders were issued today by the navy department to the cruisers North Carolina and Montana, at Gibraltar, to proceed to Mersina. It is probable one ship will be stationed there and another at Alexandria. The revenue cutter Tacoma, which touched at Gibraltar, also will go to Mersina.

In Asia Minor.

Constantinople, May 5.—Reports from Asia Minor today say troops sent there to restore order are wholly insufficient to police the "massacre belts" and appeal is made for a larger force. The burning of the French sisters' school at Mersina and the Josephine convent at Adana by Mohammedan mobs are confirmed in today's dispatches. Other missions throughout Asia Minor are again imperiled and a repetition of the massacres is feared.

PEACE CONGRESS CONCLUDES ITS SESSIONS TODAY

More Than Thousand Will Attend Banquet in Chicago
Tonight.

Addresses Delivered by Diplomats Today.

WU TING FANG ONE OF THEM.

Chicago, May 5.—The closing sessions of the national peace conference were held today. Justice Joseph B. Moore, of the Michigan supreme court, presided. The principal address was by the Rev. J. L. Tyron, of Boston.

The report of the resolution committee this morning caused a stormy session. The resolution recognizing the Socialistic movement was rejected and resolutions declaring public war is now out of date and a relic of barbarism and unworthy of the times were adopted.

The big banquet will be attended by over 1,000 delegates and public men tonight.

Present Position.

Dr. Benj. F. Trueblood, secretary of the American Peace society, said: "Let me sketch in the barest outline what has already been accomplished. The interpretation will take care of itself.

I. The men and women, now a great host, who believe that the day is past when blind brute force should direct the policies of nations and preside at the settlement of their differences, are now thoroughly organized. A hundred years ago there was not a society in existence organized to promote appeal to the forum of reason and right in the adjustment of international controversies. Today there are more than five hundred, nearly every important nation having its group of peace organizations. Their constituents are numbered by tens of thousands from every rank and class in society—philanthropists, men of trade and commerce, educators and jurists, workmen, statesmen, rulers even. The organized peace party has its international peace bureau at Berne, Switzerland, binding all its sections into one world body. It has its international peace congress, which has held seventeen meetings in twenty years—congresses over which statesmen now feel it an honor to preside and which are welcomed by kings and presidents with a warmth of interest and a generosity of hospitality scarcely accorded to any other organization. It has its great national congresses in many countries, like this present one, and that in Carnegie hall, New York, two years ago; and its special conferences like that at Hohonk Lake.

"II. The position which the peace movement has reached is no less distinctly determined by the practical attainments of arbitration. We are this year celebrating what is really the 190th anniversary of the birth of our movement, for it was in 1809 that David L. Dodge, a Christian merchant of New York City, wrote the pamphlet which brought the movement into being, and led six years later to the organization in his parlor in New York of the first Peace society in the world. The first Hague conference, ten years ago, gave us the permanent international court of arbitration, which has now been in successful operation for about eight years and disposed of several important controversies. This court was strengthened and improved by the second Hague conference two years ago, and by the admission of the South and Central American states to it, has become the arbitration court, not of the twenty-six powers that gathered at The Hague in 1899, but of the entire world.

"Within less than six years, more

TOBACCO MARKET AT HOPKINSVILLE CONTINUES ACTIVE.

Hopkinsville, Ky., May 5.—Both the loose floor and association tobacco markets continue active, in spite of the unseasonable weather which has prevailed during a good part of the month. Prices remain firm and, instead of any falling off in the demand, it rather has increased. Over 1,000,000 pounds of the weed brought satisfactory prices ranging from $3.50 to $6.50 for lugs and from $6.50 to $12.75 for leaf. The last named figure, $12.75, was secured last week by a Fairview farmer, and was the top price of the season on the loose floor.

The association sales on this market are picking up daily, and the officials express themselves as entirely sanguine over the prospects. During the past month 161 hogheads of new tobacco have been sold through the organization, and the total sales of the new crop aggregate 264 hogheads. Prices are quoted as follows:

Leaf—Low, $4 to $4.25; common, $4.50 to $5.50; medium, $5.50 to $6.50; good, $6.50 to $7; fine, $7 to $7.50.

Leaf—Low, $6 to $6.50; common, $6.50 to $7.50; medium, $7.50 to $8.50; good, $8.50 to $10; fine, $10.50 to $12.50.

The old crop also sold well, 232 hogheads being disposed of at from $4 to $5 for lugs and $5 to $7 for leaf.

The sales of the 1907 crop for the year are 1,550 hogheads, leaving only 275 hogheads on hand. Reports indicate that a full crop will be grown in the county this year. During the past week ninety hogheads of the old and fourteen of the new crop were sold here. The loose floor sales for the week reached nearly 200,000 pounds. The total sales of the old and new crops on the local market, according to the latest report of the auditor of the association, are 6,348 hogheads.

Clarksville Tobacco, Clarksville, Tenn., May 5.—The tobacco market continues active, with a good demand for all grades. The receipts in the open market were 503 hogheads; sales 8 hogheads. The loose sales were light, but prices are reported high for the kind of offering. The local salesman of the Dark Tobacco Growers' association sold last week 207 hogheads of the new crop divided about equally between light and heavy weight hogheads, all at satisfactory prices. Cables are reported coming from London stating that parliament had suddenly raised the duty on leaf tobacco from $72 per hundred pounds to $88 per hundred.

"Babes in Toyland."

"Babes in Toyland." Glen MacDonough and Victor Herbert's musical extravaganza, which was the vogue of New York, Chicago and Boston, having had a run of 250 nights at the Majestic theater, New York, 150 nights in Chicago and an equally lengthy run in Boston, will be presented at the Kentucky, Friday, May 7. Unquestionably "Babes in Toyland" will be the event of the dramatic season in Paducah, as it has been in all the cities of both the North and South, where Hamlin and Mitchell have presented this musical comedy of international fame with its all-star cast.

Glen MacDonough has treated the nursery fairy story, dear to the heart of every child, and to the heart of every one who has been a child in years gone by, in an entirely original manner. One sees Alan and Jane, beautiful Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary, Boy Blue, Jack and Jill, Little Miss Muffet, Red Riding Hood, and all the other characters of fairy fame depicted by talented and beautiful actresses and capable actors.

Two carloads of scenery and baggage and two Pullman or day "Babes in Toyland" carries its own orchestra and its own expert electricians form the "Toyland Special" force.

A Trained Nurse Uses and Endorses

MISS KATIE GREINER

Miss Greiner, a well-known trained nurse of Philadelphia, who has a large practice, is loud in her praise of what Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done for her patients and herself. When very weak it built her up and greatly increased her weight. She strongly recommends it to all in need of a tonic and strength builder.

"As a trained nurse, I have often had cases where the attending doctor prescribed Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey when a tonic was needed, and the results were uniformly satisfactory. I was sick from 1900 to 1904, was very weak and to the milk diet, ordered by the doctors, I added a little Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which helped me wonderfully. From May to August I gained 8½ lbs. A teaspoonful in the morning gave me a good appetite, and when I had a bilious attack could retain it when nothing else would remain on my stomach. It has also benefited me when I had the grippe. I prefer it to any other on account of its purity and quality.

"When I was taken sick I weighed 155 lbs. I went down to 110½ lbs., and now weigh 152½ lbs., due, I fully believe, to the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

"I assisted nursing the son of a friend who was very ill and weak, and had tried many remedies and doctors without relief. At first, as the family are strong temperance people, they objected to using liquor, until they saw how Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey gave strength and vigor to the patient. It was given in milk and alternated with clam juice. He is making rapid strides toward recovery. I will be glad to let you know from time to time the progress of this case.

"I shall use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey whenever a tonic-stimulant is needed. I can recommend it to the young and the old."—Miss Katie Greiner, graduate nurse, 3347 Market St., W. Philadelphia, Pa.

RIVER FRONT AT EVANSVILLE

Big Real Estate Deal Gets Control of Water Levee.

Deep Harbor Directly in Front of Site to Facilitate Transfer of Freight.

ONE PURCHASE MADE BY CABLE

Evansville, Ind., May 5.—Working quietly through an Evansville real estate agency and the Terre Haute Trust company, the Evansville Belt Railroad company has bought property along the river front the old St. Mary's hospital to the point where the L. & N. railroad tracks skirt the river. The property includes the better part of eight blocks. The price paid for it is in the neighborhood of $45,000. Railroad yards will be constructed.

W. G. Archer, of Covert & Archer, has conducted the purchases. The deeds have been made in the name of the Terre Haute Trust company. The purpose of the purchase was kept an absolute secret until Tuesday. The purchasers believed that a Terre Haute real estate company was buying lands with the intention of locating a gigantic steel mill in Evansville.

$12,000 in Gold.

W. G. Archer Monday afternoon completed practically the last of the purchase.

At 3 o'clock he went to the West Side bank and took out $12,000 in gold. With a man to guard the treasure, he rode to the site of the big railroad yards and paid out the entire amount for options. The money was paid to residents living between the river and one end of the old H. Hermann manufacturing plant ground.

The H. Hermann Manufacturing company's grounds and the factory building have been bought. The factory will be torn down. All the residences purchased will be moved or torn away. Most of them are valuable houses.

The importance of the railroad company's project is evidenced by their willingness to buy up property of great value and tear it away to secure their ends.

Deal by Cable.

The H. Hermann manufacturing plant was owned by an English corporation. W. G. Archer negotiated for its purchase by cable. The deal was closed a few days ago.

The H. Hermann company manufactured furniture. They sent large amounts to England, sending them in pieces, to avoid revenue duty. The company had a branch factory in England, where they put together the parts of chairs, tables and benches shipped from Evansville. The furniture was then sold in England markets. For a number of years the factory has been in disuse. H. Hermann, its builder and head of the manufacturing company, is dead.

The factory grounds include about three blocks. The Bourbon stock yards cut in between it and the river at one place. Other property, since

Display of Midsummer Millinery Thursday, May 6 Miss Zula Cobbs 329 Broadway

Purchased by the Belt Railway company, lies between another part of the property and the river.

One entire block was purchased from Henry W. Barker and Samuel B. Bell, of the B. & B. Laundry company.

The purpose of the purchase is the establishing of a great railroad yards and a harbor.

Secure Deep Harbor.

"The best natural harbor on the Ohio river is at this point," said W. G. Archer Tuesday. "The water is of unusual depth. The railroad tracks can be run down to the water's edge."

Docks, or a big floating wharf, are among the possible things which the railroad is planning. Steamboats and barges can be loaded directly into E. & T. H. trains. Hitherto the E. & T. H. railroad has been dependent on the L. & N. for approaches to the river. By its secret deal it snatches a large part of the river front from this railroad.

"The L. & N. railroad made an effort to get the ground themselves," said W. G. Archer. "But I had already started negotiations for the Belt Railway company when the L. & N. told me of its willingness to purchase."

Work will be started on the construction of the yards immediately, it is believed. Tenants of the houses which were purchased have agreed to leave within thirty days of the closing of the deal.

Bridge the Ohio?

Gigantic ulterior purposes of railroad lines identified with the E. & T. H. and the Evansville Belt Railway company may come to light in a short time. A business man of the city said Tuesday, when the situation was stated to him: "In my opinion that is the beginning of a movement to shoot the Frisco over its own bridge and tracks. I believe E. & T. H. officials have a bridge up their sleeve."

DELINQUENT IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Discussed at Length in Superintendent's Report.

Pupils Will Take Part in Dedication of D. A. R. Fountain This Month.

SCHOOL BOARD'S MEETING

At the regular monthly meeting of the school board held last night at the Washington building little business of importance was brought before the board. On request of Mrs. Eli G. Boone, regent of the Paducah chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution, Superintendent Carnagey was instructed to dismiss the schools on May 12 or 19 which ever is decided on for the dedication of the fountain at Fifth street and Broadway, at 3 o'clock. It is the intention of the D. A. R. to have the school children attend the exercises in a body, accompanied by the teachers of the schools, and to sing "America". The school children will all be provided with small American flags. Deal's band will furnish the music.

Since the Lincoln school will not have any commencement exercises this year, because of the high school course being lengthened from 3 to 4 years, the faculty of the school requested that the board give its sanction to a lecture, which will be given under the auspices of the school at the Kentucky May 11. Mary Church Terrell, colored, a graduate of Oberlin, O., and a member of the board of Education of Washington, D. C., has been engaged to lecture. Mary Church Terrell is probably the most talented colored woman in this country. She is recommended by a number of school professors and schools over the country and is able to lecture in several different languages. The Lincoln school will bear all expenses and all the proceeds over expenses will be used for the betterment of the Lincoln school. The entire expense will amount to about $130. The board sanctioned the undertaking of the colored school.

Superintendent's Report.

The monthly report of Superintendent J. A. Carnagey as follows was received and filed:

I submit herewith the report for the school month ending April 23, 1909:

New pupils entered..... 24
Total enrollment for month..... 2908
Total gains for month..... 145
Total losses for month..... 216
Number belonging at close of March..... 2762
Number belonging at close of April..... 2691
Average daily attendance for April..... 2516
Average daily absence for April 232
Number cases tardiness in April 376
Number cases corporal punishment..... 11
Number cases truancy..... 29
Total enrollment to date..... 3569

The above figures show continued regularity of attendance, but the losses exceed the gains, showing the effect of the usual spring exodus from the schools. It is a problem with schools everywhere to hold in many pupils during the last two or three months of the school year, and no solution has proved adequate.

A truant law, rigidly enforced, has come nearer holding pupils in until the close of the year, but even that does not hold pupils over 14 years of age.

Delinquent Pupils.

This failure of pupils to complete the year's work makes the teacher's work more difficult, and complicates the work of the conscientious superintendent who has, at the beginning of every school year, several hundred pupils to classify, whose attainments are in part above one grade, and below that of the next grade, owing to the fact that regular pupils during the last two or three months of the year have done work that these delinquent pupils have not done. To put these delinquent pupils into the same grade as that in which they were, caused them to go over work that they have done, but to put them with the next higher grade means an injustice to regular pupils who must be held back to wait until the teacher coaches up these delinquents. Of the two methods the one that requires pupils who stopped school without a valid reason to go into the lower class is the fairer, because it does not work injustice to pupils and parents who have realized the full year. I wish to report that several of the schools have been making some very material improvements both inside and outside the building. The McKinley, R. E. Lee and the Whittier have gone to considerable trouble and expense in setting out flowers and plants to beautify the grounds.

Cleaning Schools.

The two colored schools—the Lincoln and the Garfield—have, at their own expense washed all the desks in their rooms, stained or painted the woodwork of the desks and painted the iron frame work black, and painted the stoves and stove-pipes with aluminum paint.

In fact at all the schools more or less has been done during the past month in cleaning up and beautifying the surroundings.

These unselfish efforts on the part

The change to Postum is not hard because the flavour of well-boiled Postum is similar to that of mild Java and it quickly wins its own way.

Increased Capacity For Mental Labor Since Leaving off Coffee.

Many former coffee drinkers who have mental work to perform, day after day, have found a better capacity and greater endurance by using Postum instead of ordinary coffee.

An Ill Woman writes: "I had drunk coffee for about twenty years, and finally had what the doctor called 'coffee heart.' I was nervous and extremely despondent; had little mental or physical strength left, had kidney trouble and constipation.

"The first noticeable benefit derived from the change from coffee to Postum was the natural action of the kidneys and bowels. In two weeks my heart action was greatly improved and my nerves steady.

"Then I became less despondent, and the desire to be active again, showed proof of renewed physical and mental strength.

Daily Thought.

Though honey is a healthful sweet,
yet it will not sweeten your disposition.

"Man is of few days." The fellow who went over Niagara Falls three times in a barrel, died of a bad cold.

Joel Fort, whom Felix Ewing, general manager of the Planters' Protective association, called a "traitor," casually suggests that Mr. Ewing is a "doper, dunce, falsifier or a lunatic."

The Scientific American says the "house fly" should be called the
"typhoid fly."

The Frankfort News wonders why a man should shoot a woman simply because she prefers some other suitor to him. Yet, what more heinous thing can a man imagine than that his wife should have preferred some one else to him, when he proposed?

We presume the News-Democrat's counting machine, which counted the votes at the senatorial convention, will be used to count the votes at the primary tomorrow.

There is one thing to be said in favor of a primary, noses are counted in public in a convention; but when a committee appoints officers of a primary and does the counting, there is nobody to stand by and criticize.

The announcement that John J.
Dorian will be candidate for police judge on the Republican ticket has met with popular approval from citizens of all parties, who desire to see that office administered in the interest of public peace.

CONVENTION ECHOES.

In the Sunday issue the News-
Democrat paid The Sun a delicate compliment by intimating that the Democratic papers of the First congressional district secured their information, concerning the Second senatorial district convention from The Sun, when both The Sun and the News-Democrat reported it. However, our tenacious fancy for the literal truth forbids our silent acquiescence in that complimentary allusion. All those comments we have quoted on the convention, were written by editors, who attended the convention, and since the News-Democrat's manager and editor and local staff, together with all its stockholders were present at the convention, and some of them conversed with aforesaid editors, we feel reasonably sure it is known at the News-Democrat office, where those editors got their information.

Today we quote from the Mayfield Messenger, whose editor attended the convention, an editorial credited to him to the Calvert City Times. Since the latter valuable paper has not reached our desk, we publish the quotation on the authority of the Mayfield Messenger:

"The editor of the Times has been told that it is not good policy for a Democratic paper to take a hand between two Democratic candidates before a primary or a convention. If this is true, we are inclined to believe that it is equally as bad policy for a Democratic state district commissioner to take a hand between two Democrats for an office. W. A.

Berry, of Paducah, is a member of the state executive committee and we believe his action in the senatorial convention which met in Paducah last week was slightly un-Democratic and contrary to the best policy and usages of the party."

Today we received the following letter from the editor of the Arlington Courier:

"While we are Democratic, we do not like nor endorse any such business as was carried on in your town at the alleged convention and do not hesitate to say so, as you perhaps noticed from our last issue which we sent you. We notice what the News-Democrat said about your report of the proceedings. I read Tuesday and Wednesday's report, and, having sat in the press pen, I considered your report of the proceedings by far more correct than that of the News, since it could see nothing which was not in Eaton's favor."

RESPONSIBILITY OF THE FISCAL COURT.

More in the spirit of criticism of the system than of the fiscal court.
The Sun refers to the allegations that for ten years Hiram Smedley, lately county clerk and before that a deputy, passed forged orders on the county, and they were approved by the fiscal court without question. That the alleged pecu-lations, if so, are discovered, is to the credit first of William Husbands, state revenue agent, who commenced proceedings in behalf of the state to recover the shortages from the clerk or the bonding company.

We know how those things get through. The finance committee of the fiscal court is given a list of claims, asks the clerk about them, maybe and maybe not, and recommends their approval by the court.
The magistrates, who do not hear half the report read, unless attention has previously been called to some item, approve as recommended.
And that went on for ten years while it is charged $7,000 was taken from the county.

The magistrates are a body of citizens, elected by their fellow-citizens to represent their magisterial districts, and look after these matters.
The fiscal court stands in the place of the public mass meeting. We are pleased to observe that hereafter all claims will be carefully scrutinized.
Either this must be done or the people must be careful whom they elect fiscal officers, and keep out drunkards and gamblers and men liable to be tempted to steal or to become incompetent.

THE HEPBURN ACT.

Much unfairness and extortion can now be obtained by the impartial application of the Hepburn act, since the supreme court has decided its commodity clause is constitutional.
In the Leigh valley and the other anthracite coal regions, where Baer, self-acclaimed steward for the Almighty, and other heads of railroads, control the coal and the means of transportation, labor has been degraded and the public mulcted by a combination, which is in a position to extort its own price; because, by controlling the means of transportation the coal company could prevent competitors getting their products to market, and thus could cause a coal famine, whenever desirable. It may not be necessary to go so far away from home for examples, but the anthracite affords the most notable.
Common carriers owe a great obligation to the public as to their stocking, and to their true reform.

THE PRIMARY.

While it is true, after they have voted at the primary, all Democrats will be solemnly told that they are in honor bound to support the ticket nominated, be it ever so bad—and let it be said, that the committee picked out the ticket in advance and did not leave the voters much to choose from in the way of contests for councilmanic positions,—we wish to give this advice to all citizens.
If you participate in the primary,
vote for men, as you would choose directors of your bank. The city uses $300,000 annually of your money, and the general council spends it. If you are not acquainted with the characters, occupations and records of the men proposed for nomination, acquaint yourself between this and tomorrow morning. If you find only bad men proposed for offices, don't vote at all, and do your scratching at the polls. Good citizenship does not stop at a committee ridden party primary. If bad men are nominated, it is the duty of all good citizens to defeat the bad men.

The Great White Plague is responsible for the death of sixty of our citizens last year.

An abundant supply of pure, fresh air is the most powerful natural agent for the prevention of consumption.

Disease germs, like the seed a farmer plants, need a suitable soil and favorable condition for their growth, and there are no germs of which this is more certainly true than those of tuberculosis.

Living in poorly lighted, poorly ventilated or damp houses, unprotected from the invasion of the house fly by screens, should be avoided.

NO CURE FOR BALDNESS—PHY-SICIAN OF NATIONAL REPU-TATION STATES THAT IN
RARE CASES BALDNESS
IS NOT A DISEASE.

It is a well-known fact that more charlatanisms are rampant today on the subject of the scalp and hair than exists concerning any other subject, excepting, perhaps, consumption. Dr.
Nott says: "Among the thousands of cases that have passed under my inspection, I have seen but very few authenticated instances where baldness has been successfully treated; of course, if there was among the patent medicines anything that would accomplish the result we would know of it and would at least try it. So far as restoring hair to color or promoting the length of the hair, that's another matter. The Q-Ban Hair Restorer, for instance, will restore gray hair to its natural color. I have used it in hundreds of instances without failing in a single case. I have used the Q-Ban Hair Tonic as well, very often and effectually to encourage the growth of a luxuriant crop of hair—to remove dandruff, etc., but I have as yet to record a single case of baldness that has been effectually treated,
without having to resort to a general hygienic treatment in connection with standard products like, for instance, Q-Ban Hair Restorer and the Hair Tonic. I have found them to be very effective assistants. Dr. Nott admits and insists that to produce a luxuriant growth of hair, to restore gray hairs, cure dandruff and diseased scalps is quite possible by simply observing the laws of health and using Q-Ban Hair Restorer and Tonic,
but for baldness there is, as a rule,
no cure; although some remarkable exceptions may be noted.

Q-Ban Hair Restorer and Tonic, we understand, can be had now at all druggists, put up ready for use with full directions given as to the application. W. B. McPherson sells and recommends these preparations. If you are gray haired or partly gray he will give you the first package of Hair Restorer free. Simply call and ask for it.

But that they have been made at all,

is a wonder. Arbitration has won its

of a general treaty of obligatory ar-solution by diplomacy. A treaty of this order, limited somewhat in scope,

BEAUTIFUL "HELEN BLAIR" VISITS PADUCAH HARBOR.

"Helen Blair," the beautiful excursion steamer belonging to Capt. W. A. Blair, of Davenport, Ia., and who is in charge of the boat, arrived in port this morning from Davenport on her way to Nashville. She has 56 round-trip passengers aboard. The passengers all but four are professional and business men accompanied by their families from Davenport. Mr. C. M. Junkin, wife and family, of Fairfield, Ia., are making the trip. Mr. Junkin is a prominent newspaper man, having charge of four of Iowa's big newspapers. About half the passengers made the trip on the Helen Blair last year from Davenport to Waterloo, Ala. The boat will tie up at Dover tonight and tomorrow the party will visit the Ft. Donelson battlefield. A two days' stay will be given the excursionists at Nashville, and a number of them will visit Mammoth cave. The Helen Blair will be in port again next Saturday night about 8 o'clock on her return trip.

LUMBERMEN PROTEST.

Change in Yellow Pine Rates West of Mississippi River.

Washington, May 5.—The entire yellow pine lumber schedule of rates in the country west of the Mississippi river is involved in a complaint of excessive rates filed with the interstate commerce commission. The complaint was instituted by the Louisiana Central Lumber company and thirteen other lumber manufacturers in the southern yellow pine territory, against the Burlington railroad and thirty-one other interstate carriers. A reduction of the rates on yellow pine from Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri and Texas to Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and Wyoming is demanded, on the ground that they are excessive, unreasonable and unjust.

Bradley on Hemp.

Washington, May 5.—Earnest argument for the tariff on hemp was made in the senate this afternoon by Senator Bradley of Kentucky, who proposes to modify the present bill by placing 11 1/2 cents a pound on hemp and strike it from the free list. He said Senator Dolliver, of Iowa, spoke on some queer wrinkles in the woolen schedule in tariff bill, articles containing part wool are made to pay as though all wool of the first class. He said the absurd distinction between wools of first and second class ought to be abolished.

New Steamboat Company.

Pierre, S. D., May 5.—The Missouri River Navigation company, with headquarters at Pierre, with a capital stock of $5,000,000 was incorporated here. The line is to operate between Kansas City and Pierre with freight and passenger boats, it is said.

Miss Maude Welland, of Louisville, returned today after a visit with Miss Sarah Weeks.

Attorney W. V. Eaton returned last night from Louisville.

There is a Self-Reducing Corset in a model for every type of stout woman—tall and stout, short and stout or just "fat."

Better Than a Help Wanted Ad.

Mrs. Leroy—"Anty, I'm just trying to compose a help-wanted ad. for the newspaper that will bring me a washwoman. They're awfully scarce and I'm so tired out doing my own washing I'm nearly half dead."

Anty Drudge—"Help wanted? Huh! The help you want is Fels-Naptha soap. Instead of writing that ad. you write a postal to your grocer to send you some Fels-Naptha. Then do your washing with it in cool or lukewarm water, without boiling and hard rubbing, and you'll need no other help. It won't make you tired, nor take half so long."

If you want some clothes washed in a hurry, Fels-Naptha is a friend in need.

You don't need to wait for the laundryman or the washerwoman.

You don't need fire, nor hot water, nor washboiler, nor washboard.

In summer or winter Fels-Naptha will take the dirt out of your clothes in cool or lukewarm water in the shortest time without hard work.

And do it more thoroughly than the most elaborate laundry outfit with any other kind of soap.

You'll find it immensely convenient in having a supply of Fels-Naptha always on hand.

It will solve many vexing washing and cleaning problems in easy fashion.

All that's necessary is to have cool or lukewarm water, and follow the simple directions on the red and green wrapper.

PEACE CONGRESS

and a suggested program has been distributed among the schools.

"On March 15 a hearing arranged by the committee on correspondence was given at Washington by the secretary of state and the proposition was urged with able argument that our government should take steps to induce at least two other powers to act with the United States in appointing judges and settling up the permanent court of arbitral justice.

"Pennsylvanians hope for the honor that the permanent world tribunal with impartial judges declaring and administering a system of fixed international law, judicially and not as diplomats, will be the crowning glory of the Taft administration and of his prime minister, who is the permanent chairman of the Pennsylvania peace and arbitration conference.

"While much has been planned and considerable accomplished, it is probable that more might be done with a state society.

"The permanent committee which has charge of the work in Pennsylvania would as the result of their experience recommend the organization of groups of interested people in various parts of the state, promptly, before the enthusiasm of the conference has passed."

Wa Ting Fang.

Dr. Wa Ting Fang, Chinese minister to the United States, said:

"I am very happy to bring to you today the greetings of the oldest empire in the world, of which I have the honor to be its official representative. Especially proud am I to stand before you this afternoon, because the nation I represent is famed for its love of peace. When it is remembered that China has a population of four hundred millions you will agree with me that its attitude on the subject of war and peace is of some importance to the world at large, and I can assure you that whatever other changes, political, educational and social, may take place in my country, her traditional policy of settling disputes by discussion and amicable means will not be departed from. China has no schemes of self-aggrandizement at the expense of others, so often the cause and pretext of bellicose action. Even in her days of past conservatism and seclusion from the nations of the west, her only desire was to be left alone and be permitted to enjoy peace. Her motto has been and is, 'Live and let live.'"

"It is not, however, that the Chinese are afraid to fight. When compelled by necessity they make a good record for themselves. It is their disposition, their education which has made them peace loving people.

"In recent years the reorganization of the army occupies a prominent place on our program of reform, and the excellent showing made by our troops of the northern and southern armies at the maneuvers of the past two years, witnessed and favorably reported by correspondents and military experts of different nations, proves that there is good material in our people for the making of soldiers. The reorganization of our army need not, however, create the least alarm, nor is it in conflict with the objects of this society. The Chinese government has been actuated by one aim, and that is to place the troops in a state of efficiency for police and defensive purposes only. This is in accordance with the principle laid down by many eminent statesmen that in order to maintain and preserve peace it is necessary to be prepared for war. China never has been and never will be aggressive in a military way—she is too fond of peace and realizes too fully the horrors of war.

"If general disarmament should be proposed, you will not find China disposed to accept it.

"In conclusion I would add that our attitude on this question cannot be better expressed, I think, than by a quotation from Sir Robert Hart, who has been half a century in China. He says, 'The Chinese believe in right so firmly that they scorn to think it requires to be supported or enforced by might.' In short, we believe that right makes right and not might makes right, and I am sanguine enough to believe that the whole world is coming around to adopt that view, which is eminently the right one.

"Representing as I do, therefore, a nation peaceable by nature and choice, taught from our infancy to abhor violence, and reverence for right and reason, to worship literary and industrial pursuits, and to neglect and dispise martial vainglory, I am

Germs cannot live when Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) is used. You just breathe in this soothing yet most powerful antiseptic air and relief is immediate. German Ambassador.

The German ambassador, Count Johann Heinrich von Bernstorff, said:

"I beg leave to express an opinion on these two subjects from the German point of view. Our government and people heartily sympathize with the idea of submitting such questions to arbitration which do not involve national honor and vital national interests. If my government were unwilling to enter into a general treaty of obligatory arbitration they on the other hand have always declared themselves willing to conclude treaties of arbitration with other governments in pairs. The German secretary of state for foreign affairs only a few weeks ago gave expression to this view before the German parliament. Baron Schoen said: 'The imperial government is by no means opposed to conclude arbitration treaties with other governments in pairs. We have concluded such a treaty with Great Britain. We had also concluded one with the United States of America. It was not our fault that this treaty did not take effect, but we hope that the difficulties which stood in the way may be overcome. In our opinion, however, a general arbitration treaty is by no means always necessary for the purpose of settling controversies which might lead to conflicts. The German foreign office has for many years been in the habit of proposing arbitration in cases of controversies between the Germans and foreign governments. It has thus been possible to settle several disagreeable questions at issue before they developed into conflicts. We shall in future also proceed in the same way.'"

"Moreover in the course of last winter my government agreed with France to submit the Casablanca question to arbitration, a question which came very near involving national honor, as a German consular official had been attacked by foreign troops. You will all agree with me that no government could well do more for the cause of arbitration."

"As to the question of limitation of armaments you all know that the German government could not see their way to take any steps in this matter."

"The imperial chancellor has several times explained in his speeches before the imperial parliament that the reduction of armaments was no doubt desirable, but that it was difficult to find a practical solution of the question, as it could not be decided upon abstract principles or mathematical calculations. Our armaments, the chancellor went on to say, are established by a law which everybody can study if he cares to do so, and measured solely by our own defence requirements for the purpose of the protection of our commerce and coasts, and as has been insisted on at many previous occasions, present no menace to any people."

"Incidentally I may mention that we will in 1912 have 10 Dreadnoughts and 8 Invincibles and not 17 or 25 Dreadnoughts as was wrongly stated."

Bollinger's Speech.

Hon. Richard A. Bollinger, secretary of the interior, said:

"I am commissioned by the president of the United States to bear to you tidings of good will and encouragement in your praiseworthy efforts for universal peace."

"The first president of the United States wrote this message of peace:

"Nothing is more essential than that inveterate antipathies against particular nations and passionate attachments to others should be excluded, and that, in place of them, just and amicable feelings towards all should be cultivated."

"This doctrine by its continual reiteration during the history of this republic has acquired almost the force and sanctity of law."

"Let us remember," said President McKinley, "that our interest is in concord, not conflict; that our true glory rests in the triumphs of peace, not those of war."

"The hope for universal peace is hardly Utopian; under possible conditions it is eminently practicable; hence to learn those possible conditions and how to establish them is the purpose for which your conference is held, and your efforts so earnestly put forth."

"The peace of the world would seem to be dependent (1) upon the citizenship of the nations being of that character which would insure the creation of just laws and their enforcement (2) upon a type of international citizenship which would insure the creation of just international laws, and a substantial tribunal for their enforcement.

"It seems to me that any formula which neglects these elements must fall short of preventing the evils aimed at."

"The problem may appear simple of solution in theory, but its practical operation requires the patient endurance of ages of training and civic discipline."

"What measure of progress have we made in the last century? Very great. Wars even have been in a sense civilized. Many are the restraints and bulwarks against armed conflict which the civilized powers have erected. A strong factor for peace in The Hague court, where the disputes of honest differences will inevitably go when diplomacy fails. But the most potent agency of modern times is the increased sense of national justice, in which our own country has been a marked example. It is the international citizenship we possess which stamps our nation as a leader in the perfection of international law and in the effort to erect a great peace tribunal at The Hague."

"Education lies at the root of the progress of a healthful sentiment for peace. Honesty in trade and commerce is the next element, and prosperity at home is not only a source of domestic tranquility, but breeds the spirit of benevolence towards our neighbors abroad."

"What a glorious spirit of humanity has been shown by all the great nations in times of disaster, like that at Messina, in Italy, at Martinique, and San Francisco."

"So as the nations prosper, the world becomes better. A busy nation like a busy man has little time for mischief. For this reason the prosperity of the toiling masses in any country is one of the greatest safeguards against disturbance, and with the growth and dissemination of intelligence among the masses, which was never so marked as today, little is to be feared in the way of internal troubles, so long as the people rule."

"The interdependence of nations for the necessities of life is increasing day by day, and we are beginning to read into national conduct, as we do in the conduct of the citizen, that it has no right to disturb the peace of the world or that the interests of the nations at large are greater than those of the single nation."

"It is a source of mutual congratulation that so many citizens of the enlightened nations of the world are laboring together for universal peace. Why, let me ask, can they not take on a still higher type of citizenship? While my liege lord is the great republic, I am also a citizen of the state of Washington. I know of no reason why I could not take out naturalization papers in the Peace League of Nations, provided such an entity were created. There could be citizenship in no higher kingdom, except that above."

Hope and Pray.

"Let us hope while we pray, and pray while we hope that the standards of citizenship among all peoples may continually advance; that the controversies of the future between nations shall be settled by men big enough to fill any function or office in this higher grade of citizenship, that they may be constrained in the spirit of brotherly love and that the poetry of war with the heroes and the heroines of war shall all take their places with the rich sentiment of primitive days."

Forced Into Exile.

Wm. Upchurch, of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, "and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever." It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for Coughs and Colds, it dispels Hoarseness and Sore Throat, Cures Grip, Bronchitis, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough. 50c and $1.00, trial bottle free, guaranteed by all druggists.

A man replied to his whispered question, giving him the story, for the meeting was under Lee's domination, and the miners maintained an orderly and businesslike procedure. The matter of fact, relentless expedition of the affair shocked Burrell inexpressibly, and, seeing Poleon and Gale near by, he edged toward them, thinking that they surely could not be in sympathy with this barbarous procedure.

"You don't understand, lieutenant," said Gale in a low voice. "This nigger is a thief!"

"Gentlemen," announced Burrell, standing near the ash can and facing the tenfold of men, "this man is a thief, but you can't kill him!" Stark leaned across the bar, his eyes blazing, and touched the lieutenant on the shoulder.

"Do you mean to take a hand in all of my affairs?"

"This isn't your affair, it's mine," said the officer. "This is what I was sent here for, and it's my particular business. You seem to have overlooked that important fact."

"He stole my stuff, and he'll take his medicine."

"I say he won't!" For the second time in their brief acquaintance these two men looked fair into each other's eyes. Few men had dared to look at Stark thus and live, for when a man has once shed the blood of his fellow a mania obsesses him, a disease obtains that is incurable.

The two men battled with their eyes for an opening. Lee and the others mastered their surprise at the interruption and then began to babble until Burrell turned from the gambler and threw up his arm for silence.

"There's no use arguing," he told the mob. "You can't do it. I'll hold him down river to St. Michael's."

He laid his hand upon the negro and made for the door, with face set and eyes watchful and alert, knowing that a hair's weight might shift the balance and cause these men to rive him like wolves.

Lee's indignation at this miscarriage of justice had him so by the throat as to strangle expostulation for a moment till he saw the soldier actually bearing off his quarry.

"Stop that!" he bellowed. "To h-l with your law! We're goin' accordin' to our own!"

An ominous echo arose, and in the midst of it the miner in his blind fury, forgetting this exalted position, took a step toward the edge of the bar and fell off into the body of the meeting. With him fell the dignity of the assembly. Some one laughed, another took it up, the nervous tension broke, and a man cried:

"The soldier is right! You can't blame a dunge for stealing!" And another: "Sure! Hogs and chickens are legitimate prey!"

Lee was helped back to his stand and called for order, but the crowd poked fun at him and began moving about restlessly till some one shouted a motion to adjourn and there arose a chorus of seconders.

As Poleon and Gale walked home the Frenchman said, "Dat was nerry t'ing to do."

The trader made no answer, and the other continued, "Stark is goin' for kill 'im sure."

"It's a cinch," agreed Gale, "unless somebody gets Stark first."

When they were come to his door the trader paused and, looking back over the glowing tents and up at the star sprinkled heavens, remarked, as if concluding some train of thought, "If that boy has got the nerve to take a nigger thief out of a miners' meeting and hold him against this whole town he wouldn't hesitate much at taking a white man, would he?"

"Wah! he wouldn't!" the other, "mebbe dat would depen' on de crime."

"Suppose it was—murder?"

"Ha! We ain't got no men lak dat in Flambeau."

They said good night, and the old man entered his house to find Alluna waiting for him.

Burrell took his prisoner to the barracks, where he placed him under guard, giving instructions to hold him at any cost, not knowing what wild and reckless humor the new citizens of Flambeau might develop during the night, for it is men who have always lived with the halter of the law tight upon their necks who run wildest when it is removed.

After he had taken every precaution he went out into the night again and fought with himself as he had fought all that day and all the night before—in fact, ever since old Thomas had come to him after leaving Necla and had so cunningly shaped his talk that Burrell never suspected his object until he perceived his position in such a clear light that the young man looked back upon his work with startled eyes.

The corporal had spoken garrulously of his officer's family, of their pride and of their love for his profession; had dwelt enthusiastically upon the lieutenant's future and the length he was sure to go and finally drifted into the same story he had told Necla. Burrell at last sensed the meaning of the crafty old soldier's strategy and dismissed him, but not before his work had been accomplished.

When Burrell drove his reason with firm hands he saw but one course to follow, but when his mind went slack for a moment the old desire to have her returned more strongly than ever, and he heard voices arguing, pleading, persuading. She was the equal of any woman in the world, they said, in mind, in purity and in innocence. He hated himself for hesitating, he railed at his own indecision, and then when he had justified his love and persuaded himself that he was right in seeking this union there would rise again the picture of his people, their chagrin and what would result from such a marriage.

He had wandered far during this debate, clear past the town and out into the night.

Who Ever Heard of a Baldheaded Indian? Nobody.

No, these dusky rovers of the plains, with their strange intuition for discovering Nature's own remedies, knew of the Wild Sage Brush of the West, and knew that a brew made of its spicy leaves would keep their scalps clean and healthy and also preserve the glossy blackness of their hair. In this generation this simple brew of the "medicine man" of the tribe has been vastly improved by the addition of other valuable ingredients, the most important being Sulphur, long recognized by scalp specialists as being a valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles.

In fact, all healthy hair contains a certain amount of sulphur, which keeps the hair in good condition and protects the hair roots from the attack of germs, which cause dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair and other troubles of the sort. When the hair lacks the proper amount of sulphur, as is shown by its splitting at the ends, coming out or losing its color, the lack should be supplied by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Restorer, a scientific preparation of Sulphur, Wild Sage and other valuable medicinal ingredients—a wonderful remedy for keeping the scalp healthy and making the hair grow.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented. W. J. Gilbert, Paducah, Ky., sells it at 50c and $1.00 a bottle or The Wyeth Chemical company, of New York City, will send it, express prepaid, upon receipt of price.
